

Chicago Tribune

'07 TRIBUNE ENDORSEMENTS

FOR CITY COUNCIL

Published February 12, 2007

The Tribune begins endorsements today in contested races for the Chicago City Council. The election is Feb. 27.

6th Ward (South Side): Ald. Freddrenna Lyle has done at best an adequate job of representing this complicated ward since 1998. Karin Norington-Reaves, schools and corporate relations director for the non-profit Innovations for Learning, has a better grasp of how to solve the ward's problems. She is smart, energetic and a fresh political face who pledges to focus on access to health care and on new ways of communicating with residents. Norington-Reaves is endorsed. Two other candidates are running.